 WARNING **

Richie Rich and the staff of Pearl City Networks is not responsible for any damage done while doing the following experiments...do it at your own risk!!!!

winston smith and mr.mojo risin present:
an anarchist's beginning guide to explosives! (or how to get back at those neighbors who told you to turn your stereo down by blowing em up!)

1.quickie...

take organic pool chlorine and mix it with vegetable shortening and put it someplace you don't like. it reacts by itself to produce a very noxious white smoke and heat.

2.a pipe bomb (dangerous)

take a pipe crimp (closed at one end) and pack it 3/4 full of parafin. (or any other semi-solid with about the same basic chemical structure) poke a number of holes through the length of the parafin. on top of this put a very thin steel (or other metal of that sort) wafer, make double damn sure that it fits tightly all the way around. on top of this put some high concentration hcl (or similar acid). close the top now, stand it on end (parafin end down), and get the f*ck away. you should have about 2-5 minutes depending on the thickness of the wafer. watch out for shrappnel.

3. snowball...

take ammonium iodide, flour, & water and form this into a snowball. leave this 'snowball' somewhere where it will do neat stuff when it dries out. (substituting some magnesium flash powder for some (not all) of that flour helps things a bit.)

4.fire bomb..

take carbon disulfide and dissolve white phosphorous in it. put it in a stoppered bottle and throw it at something you would like to see on fire. when the cs₂ evaporates, it leaves a film of p on what ever it hits, and it starts a fire with the solvent vapors.

if the phosphorus is even warmed, it bursts into flames by itself so watch what touches it and what temperature day it is.

5. light bulb bomb (click...boom!)

take a light bulb (brass based preferably so you can solder the wires back when you are done) unsolder the two wires that are soldered to the brass. (one at the center of the base and one on the side) remove the base taking care not to damage the bulb or filament.

take a pair of needle nosed pliers and snap the glass nipple that is now exposed. fill bulb (not completely) via the hole you just made with gasoline. plug hole with silicone or something. put the base back on. resolder the wires screw into light fixture (with power off of course!) turn on light...boom!

mr.mojo risin and winston smith assume no responsiblity for personal injury or damage to property cause by these devices of destruction. anarchy rules!
