
The Customer Name/Address System

The word CN/A stands for Customer's Name and Address.
The telephone company has set up little bureaus that answer the telephone all day and give numbers out to authorized Bell employees of the same city or other citys nationwide. The bureau keeps everyone on file with name and address, INCLUDING those that are UNLISTED! So if you have a phone number and you want to find out who owns it and where they live, you can use this little handy system..

1) You have this MEGA Def female that gave you her phone number, and she said come over and thang, and she got cut off cause of the storm, and you Dont know her address..
but you have the telephone number...

(914)733-1234

PS...

The NPA is the Area Code!

2) Now look up the CN/A # for that NPA in the list below. In my example, the NPA is 914 and the CN/A number is 518-471-8111.

3) Now then call up the CN/A # (During regular hours) and throw a line like, "Hello, This is LL Cool J from the residential service center in Nevada. And I need to get a CN/A on the customer at 914-555-1234. Thank You *Sound Real!!! And make your own name up too!

4) Now, if you have a nice voice and do it right, the operator will ask you no questions at all!

5) You now have the females address, Go over there and knock those boots off her all night long.....

Here's the complete list...

All but 5!

This numbers are mainly used to get a name and address of a person that a customer claims to have never called.

NOTE: This is the most complete list of CN/A #'s in my possession (with only 5 #'s not available)

Conclusion: Good luck and let me know on your results!
