

Thompsons_Water_Seal_Used_To_Seal_Tents_2004.txt

I camp in tents and found a perfect tent sealer. Thompson's Water Sealer. Set tent up outdoors and sponge on, or dip entire tent into bucket filled with sealer then wring out and set tent up to dry. This really works well. Spent the night in a 5" downpour rain and only about sponge full near the door. If I had put zipper at top of opening I could have probably stayed completely dry. Zippers should be treated with a little vasaline to prevent sticking. This method beats the heck out of anything sporting goods dealers have suggested.

Best regards -- Michael Snow