

Soapmaking_I_Dare_You_Number_Two_2004.txt

Tue, 18 Jun 2002

Subject: I dare you Phase II Part One: Equipment list to make soap

For those who are up to take this weeks challenge.. Start looking at garage sales or Goodwill type stores, bribe someone who has not used something off the list for the last eons in trade for some soap.. ect

Everything that comes in contact with anything in soapmaking is now condemned to be only for soapmaking. Take a black Sharpie (indelible) pen and mark EVERYTHING "Soap Only"

You need:

wooden chopsticks

2 deep stainless steel bowls

2 glass dairy thermometers (you can get them in the housewares dept)

a blender with a GLASS pitcher lots and lots and lots of yogurt or cottage cheese containers with lids rubber kitchen/dishwashing gloves

VINEGAR!

measuring cup (I used a Hills dog food measuring cup as I work for vet offices)

plastic measuring pitcher wooden spoons with long handles saran wrap(cringe, I have not tried cellophane with this project)

Old blankets or sleeping bags

Ingrediant list:

1 can of Crisco

Olive oil

coconut oil

distilled water

Red devil lye . Shake the can and make sure it is not solid, but loose any essential oils or dried herbs

tenzicut